Several File for Precinct Committeemen

Republicans Stand Pat; Competition Among Democrats Keen

With the February 29 deadline drawing near, filings for election to offices of precinct committeemen are almost complete.

The three present Republican committeemen for Antioch township, C. K. Anderson in Precinct 1; Fire Chief James Stearns in Precinct 2, and Albert Friedle in Precinct 3, are all candidates for re-election.

All have held their offices for a number of years and all except Friedle are unopposed. Homer Reading has also filed as a candidate in Precinct 3.

Precinct Three Quiet

No candidate has as yet filed for the Democratic party in Precinct 3, but there is Democratic competition in both of the other precincts.

In Precinct 2, Charles Cermak, Jr., of Loon Lake, a candidate for re-election for a fourth term, is opposed by Willard J. Murphy and Einar Sorenson.

Cermak has been vice-president of the Lake County Young Democratic club for the past two years. When elected precinct committeeman for the first time in 1934, he was the youngest committeeman in Lake county.

Murphy is owner of the Midget Eat shop in Antioch. He made a good race for the office of constable at the last election, and on the strength of the following he had then he is believed to merit serious consideration.

Einar Sorenson is a Democratic leader in Lake county and vice-chairman of the party's Central committee. He was formerly committeeman in Precinct 1, but moved from that precinct to Precinct 2.

Paul Chase of Channel Lake and Raymond E. Sorenson have filed for Precinct 1.

Chase is a member of the state highway police department and of the Antioch Township High school board, and is an active Legionnaire.

Raymond Sorenson, who is a justice of the peace in Antioch township seeks to replace his father as committeeman in Precinct 1.

William M. Marks has filed for Lake Villa on the Republican ticket. Marks is chairman of the Lake County Republican Central committee.

Democratic filings for Lake Villa include Herman J. Wolf, Walter Schneider and Edward Gelden.

The winner of the conference championship was Palatine, which defeated Elmhurst of Lake Zurich 41-14, on its own floor. This was the ninth conference game won by the Cook county players. Their only loss in the tournament was to Wauconda, holder of second place in the finals. Wauconda defeated Bensenville 34-19, to rate second place on its record of eight victories and only two defeats.

Third place went to Barrington, winner over Grant, 42-13, on the Grant team's home floor.

Antioch took the lead on Blackman's free throw at the start of the second period, and held it to the end of the game. The score was 11-7 at the half, and field goals by Hawkins and Blackman in the third period raised the advantages to 21-11. Fred Hawkins scored 10 points for Antioch and John Blackman eight.

NOT A NEW BELT BUT A DIET

Rescue Truck Fund is Steadily Growing

Nearby Communities Lend Support to First Aid Campaign

Spreading out like a ripple in water, interest in the campaign to raise funds for purchasing a truck to be used by the Antioch rescue squad in its Red Cross first aid work is reaching nearby communities, and contributions have started to come in from them.

In recognition of the value of such first aid service throughout the lakes area, a number of persons have already sent contributions to Antioch Fire Chief James Stearns, who is acting as chairman in charge of the fund.

Persons from out-of-town who wish to send in their contributions may address them either to the First National Bank of Antioch, which will turn them over to Chief Stearns, or to Stearns himself, at his home, 1031 Main street.

The rescue squad, which is sponsored by the Antioch fire department and the village of Antioch, does not confine its services to the immediate community, but answers all calls. It has also engaged in road patrol work on holidays and week-ends when traffic was unusually heavy, and is ready at all times to co-operate with state police and sheriff's departments, physicians, and with other rescue squads.

The Antioch rescue squad is the only one in Lake county made up of men with advanced Red Cross training. It is at present composed of three men, and plans to enlarge its personnel as others are trained.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

STEWARDS IN THE KINGDOM

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 25:14-27.
GOLDEN TEXT—Well done, thou good and faithful servant.—Matthew 23:21.

Christ is coming again! This is the message of Matthew 24 and 25, which is the background for the lesson of today. Here we also learn of the end of the age. To many it seems that the time cannot be long before that great and fateful day breaks upon this chaos which we call civilization. These two chapters contain much important prophetic truth, but in studying our lesson we must limit ourselves to the one fact that when Christ does come again we shall be called to give an account of our stewardship.

Men are prone to think of their life as something accidental. They are here and they seem to have certain abilities and opportunities which they may make use of or not as they choose, and then when the time comes, they expect to leave this world, in which they have sought primarily for pleasure and ease, and go out into eternity without any special responsibility. That theory of life was undoubtedly prepared by the devil and is promoted by him for the purpose of destroying the souls of men.

I. Christ Makes Men Stewards of His Goods (vv. 14-18).

All men are stewards, for it is evident that our Lord has given to each one of us ability and opportunity to serve Him. The unbeliever who entirely rejects or ignores His responsibility before God will have to answer for His failure to follow and serve Christ. So will the professing Christian who denies his profession by his works have to answer for his hypocrisy. Every true Christian likewise must stand before the judgment seat of Christ and be judged for the work he has done in the flesh.

The Lord has committed to each man responsibility according to his ability. God is not unreasonable. He does not demand that which is beyond our capacity. He gives to each one the amount of His goods which that man is able to make use of, and then it becomes his responsibility to use those goods diligently and faithfully.

II. Christ Will Return for a Stewardship Accounting (v. 19).

Life is for from a meaningless existence without responsibility and ultimate accountability. Christ is coming again, we know not when, but we know that He is coming and that He may come today. What answer will you and I give Him when He asks us to account for the goods He has left in our care?

Well aware are we that there are those who scoff at the thought of Christ's return. The Bible told centuries in advance that we should expect such an attitude of unbelief, and it also told why men scoff at this truth, namely, because they are "walking after their own lusts" and are "willingly ignorant" of God's Word (see II Peter 3:3-9).

What a solemn indictment that is! Let us see that it does not apply to us. Let us rather be among those who are "looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ" (Titus 2:13). In preparation for that day let us obey His admonition, "Occupy till I come" (Luke 19:13); that we may not stand ashamed in His presence in that day.

III. Faithfulness Brings Reward, Unfaithfulness Results in Judgment (vv. 20-27).

The man who because of special ability had received five talents had a great opportunity to serve his lord, and he did so with courage and fidelity. So also did the man who because of lesser natural endowments received two talents. Both made the most of their opportunities and were equally faithful, and also received equal rewards. We shall not be judged on the basis of the greatness or the limitation of our opportunities, but rather by the use we make of them. That fact should encourage the one who is by circumstance or calling confined to a limited field, while it should solemnize and stir to greater faithfulness the one who has been given great opportunity. Observe that the reward for doing one's work well is not retirement and a pension, but more work (v. 21).

What about the man with the one talent? Apparently he yielded to the ever-present temptation to be hurt because he did not receive as much as the others (vv. 24-26). Instead of appreciating the kindness of his lord in not burdening him with more goods than he was able to care for, and doing what he could with what he had, he hid the talent in the ground and went about his own business. Such rebellion and carelessness naturally brought forth the reproof of the master and judgment (see vv. 28, 30).

SOCIETY NOTES

"Hobby Show" is Planned by Club

Hobbies—from antiques to things a person makes or collects—will be featured at the next meeting of the Antioch Woman's club, to be held Monday afternoon, March 4, at the home of Mrs. Sidney Kaiser. Mrs. Frank Powles will act as chairman in charge of the exhibit.

The gorgeous hues of the Yellowstone National park scenery, brought to them by color movies, were enjoyed by club members in a meeting held in Mrs. C. L. Kutil's home Monday afternoon.

The movies were shown by Mrs. H. K. Linzell of Long Lake, and had been taken by her and her husband on a trip through the Dakota "Bad Lands" and Yellowstone last summer.

Mrs. Linzell accompanied her presentation of the pictures with informal reminiscences of the trip.

A luncheon was served by Mrs. Kutil and the other members of the committee, Mmes. Howard Smith, Elmer Brook, Mary Smart, and H. Latan.

Personals

She is expected to recover without permanent ill effects, however, according to the opinion of physicians attending her at West Suburban hospital.

Today's Money Making Opportunity for Egg Producers Lies in Quality Eggs Properly Identified to Consumers

Egg cartons like this are furnished without charge to producers of eggs on the Layena feeding plan.

Produce a better egg—then market it in cartons that readily identify both the source and dependability of the product!

That is the money making formula for the egg producer of today, according to J. H. Burrell, Purina Mills Poultry Specialist and authority on egg production and marketing.

"I have never known a time when there was as much interest both in the production and consumption of quality eggs, as now exists," says Burrell. "It is easy to see why this interest has arisen. Better methods of controlling egg quality have been developed. Splendid promotional efforts have succeeded in making the consumer more quality egg conscious."

Extra Egg Income

"Poultrymen who have recognized this trend and have taken the necessary steps to cash in on it are getting 4c to 10c a dozen premium for their eggs. How have they done it? By building a high quality egg, then properly identifying it to the consumer," says Burrell.

"Quality egg production and timely marketing assistance have been made available to many thousands of poultry raisers through the co-operation of Purina Mills and Purina distributors," he says. "After years of research Purina Mills announced a complete laying ration built for controlling the quality, flavor and food value of eggs, called Layena. Then they produced a distinctive and quickly recognized egg carton, furnished without charge to poultrymen who produce eggs on the Layena feeding plan.

"But better eggs won't bring a premium unless they are properly merchandised and made to stand out. They obviously cannot be put into regular marketing channels along with ordinary eggs and be expected to reap an extra margin. They just won't do it."

Markets for Premium Eggs

"There are many ways in which quality eggs can be made to produce a premium. The man who is situated so that he can retail his own eggs conveniently has an excellent opportunity to get what his eggs are really worth," Burrell says. "A poultry man living near a large city or high-type suburban town or on a well travelled highway between two important towns has a grand chance to market his eggs at higher prices."

"Another opportune set-up is that of a poultryman who is situated so that he can deliver or ship his eggs carefully graded and packed to exclusive grocery stores or delicatessen shops. Hotels, restaurants, milk companies, ice cream makers, hospitals, railroad dining cars, clubs, sanitariums, private schools and colleges—all these are good prospects for quality eggs when a man is equipped to produce them the year around."

A Convenient Plan

"As to the Layena egg producing and marketing plan, every Purina dealer has the feed and the special egg cartons to follow the plan. Just apply at the local feed store that has the checkerboard sign."

STARTING BABY CHICKS SIX TIMES A YEAR HELPS MAINTAIN HIGHER AVERAGE EGG YIELD AND INCOME

This plan keeps just enough pullets coming in to provide full houses of laying birds all year long.

Many poultry raisers today are wisely maintaining steady year round egg production and egg income by starting baby chicks six times a year, according to J. H. Burrell, Purina Mills Poultry Specialist. This is much more efficient and profitable, he says, than the age-old practice of starting one or two bunches of chicks in the spring with resulting "peaks and valleys" in egg volume and earnings throughout the whole production cycle.

"On the old one-or-two-time basis," says Burrell, "poultry raisers built up markets at certain seasons of the year when they had plenty of eggs. Then they lost those markets at other seasons because they were out of eggs. But this up-and-down problem is now being eliminated by poultrymen who put off 4 to 6 broods of chicks during the year, according to the size of their flocks. The new plan keeps just enough pullets coming in to maintain full houses of laying birds all year."

How the Plan Works

"An individual poultry farm I know of that is brooding chicks six times annually has a total laying capacity of 2,500 birds. They take off 750 chicks per hatch starting in January and continuing once a month through April. The fifth and sixth hatches come off in September and October. By this procedure they bring 300 pullets into production in June, July, August, September, February and April and are able to keep the flock at full 2,500 bird laying capacity the year around. The balance of the pullets resulting from this system are sold.

"Obviously, months and dates for putting such a plan into effect may be changed by a poultry raiser to any months suitable for rounding out the program to fit individual locations and circumstances," says Burrell. "The big point is that such a system when properly functioning helps to furnish a uniform weekly supply of eggs through the year."

Salesmanship Important Factor

"Another important step in paving the way to poultry profits is to practice salesmanship in the merchandising of eggs and poultry meats," says Burrell. "When a poultry raiser knows he is producing a quality product he should have an effective method for telling people about it in a truthful, convincing way. Of course, the only way to develop and maintain quality egg and meat output is through following a well planned, workable program that operates on the basis of high uniform production, efficient labor and low overhead."

"In more detail, this plan is explained in the new hard-cover Purina Poultry Textbook, to be had for fifteen cents with the purchase of Purina Poultry Chow from any local Purina dealer.

Editor Walsh established the Herald about the same time THE NEWS was established in this city (circa 1887) and like ourselves began at the bottom round, but has far outstripped us in influence in his own county, although in the training of young editors to take the place of the old man when his weary feet have ceased to tread this mundane sphere, it will take Editor Walsh several years to catch up with us.

Damages to the extent of thousands of dollars were the result of a sleet storm that visited Antioch and Lake county Friday. The number of electric light and power poles broken in the county is roughly estimated at 1,000. Western Union sent 30 men out from Chicago to repair lines between Waukegan and Kenosha. The storm is considered the most severe one of its kind that has ever visited this section. The sleet, which coated roofs with ice, is credited with saving the village of Fox Lake from destruction when the Harbaugh lumber yards burned out Sunday morning.

THE NEWEST LIGHT SOURCE

Fluorescent Lamps

...what they are... how they work

The idea of a Fluorescent light source has long been in the minds of scientists. Centuries ago, it was first discovered that many hundreds of toxic, chemical, organic and inorganic substances have the property of becoming luminous, or fluorescent, when exposed to certain radiation. From the continued study of this phenomenon has come the development and refinement of what is now known as Fluorescent lighting.

Fluorescent lamps, made possible by these discoveries, are amazing new sources of light. They are slim glass tubes, giving off richly glowing illumination like daylight or in abundant color. They do not contain filaments like ordinary bulbs and tubular lamps. Light is produced through the agency of invisible radiation acting on fluorescent powders with which the inside of the tube is coated. This radiation is created by the flow of electricity through mercury vapor generated in the glass tube. The fluorescent powders are highly efficient converters of this radiation into light.

In the short time since their introduction, smart restaurants, stores, shops, night clubs, businesses and industries of many kinds have adopted the use of Fluorescent lamps to striking advantage. Visitors at the San Francisco and New York World Fairs marvelled at the colored lighting effects obtained with new type lighting. What has caused this sudden interest in and acceptance of Fluorescent lighting? Novelty, for one thing. Fluorescent lighting is new, different, unique — so distinctive that interest in this new lighting method has increased a hundredfold in two short years.

But novelty is not all. The quick success of the Fluorescent lamp is largely due to certain unique advantages which have led to many installations in streamlined and "plus" lighting.

Its size and shape allow freedom for creative design. The small cross section of the lamp is convenient for recessed lighting and modern fixtures, and by combining Fluorescent lamps in various sizes and color selections, many interesting applications are possible.

The highly efficient generation of strong and pure colored light is one of the Fluorescent lamp's outstanding advantages. Lamps are available to produce daylight, white, gold, blue, green, pink and red. The daylight lamp emits light giving a cool, bright effect that shows colors in their outdoor appearance.

Other advantages are inherent in the Fluorescent lamp. It permits higher lighting intensities with existing wiring when used with proper auxiliary equipment. The surface temperature of the Fluorescent lamp is so low it can be touched without discomfort. Because light is emitted quite uniformly from the entire length and surface of the tube, glare is reduced and Fluorescent lamps are therefore often useful for exposed lamp applications.

Fluorescent lamps for stores, shops, theatres, restaurants, offices and businesses of many kinds are offered in a variety of sizes including 48 inch (40-watt) 36 inch (30-watt), 24 inch (20-watt), and 18 inch (15-watt). And although no equipment is as yet widely available for homes, special installations of Fluorescent lamps are proving highly satisfactory.

We are frequently asked about the comparative economy of Fluorescent lighting. Cost of lighting with Fluorescent lamps as with Incandescent bulbs is made up of the following items: cost of electricity, cost of lamp renewals, maintenance, and interest and depreciation on the investment in fixtures and equipment. In the case of Fluorescent lamps, there is certain auxiliary equipment necessary for their operation. All these factors must be weighed along with the recognized values of lighting results. Good lighting, whether Fluorescent or Incandescent, doesn't come ready-made. Good lighting must be tailored to fit the job. That is why it is impossible to make any definite statement about the relative costs of Fluorescent versus Incandescent lighting without a complete knowledge of individual situations. In some cases the cost may be higher, in others lower.

Is Fluorescent lighting practical for your business? What equipment shall you select? What about installation costs? The answers to these and many other related questions are available to you without charge or obligation through the services of our lighting specialists. These men are thoroughly familiar with Fluorescent lighting and other types as well. They have no equipment to sell, but they will be glad to give you the benefit of their experience. ## British-Soviet Tension Grows In Wake of Nazi-Red Treaty; British Expedite Aid to Finns

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

EUROPE:

Showdown Ahead

Almost six months to the day after Germany and Russia shocked the world with their non-aggression pact, Berlin paused to hail a new phase of Nazi-Communist relations. Ratified with ceremony was a new and glistening trade treaty, which was but one part of a complex but vividly clear picture of what is happening in Europe today. Inevitably, it is believed in most chancelleries, a wedding of Russia and Germany, of Communism and Nazism, will stock these military juggernauts against the rest of Europe. Among the signs:

Marxism. Writing in Der Angriff, Nazi Party Chieftain Dr. Robert Ley showed how leftism has grown in Germany by using the Marxist

HITLER'S DR. LEY
"Workers of the world, unite!"

Communist cry: "Workers of the world, unite! . . . This war is a war of the mastery of money against labor . . . Therefore the working men and women must draw together."

Allies in Finland. France and Britain were actively protesting against Scandinavia's reluctance to let allied volunteers pass through Sweden and Norway en route to the Finnish frontier, indicating a stiffening attitude toward Russian aggression. Even more pointed was parliament's decree permitting men over 27 to enter the Finnish campaign.

Near East. Arrival of 100,000 British colonial troops in the Near East coincided with an alarming growth of war talk. The Balkans, led by Turkey, were forming a strong mutual-defense frontier against Nazi-Russian penetration. Russian frontiers of Turkey, Iran, Afghanistan and India were strengthened, either for defense against the Reds or for a lightning allied stroke against Russian oil wells.

The Wars

In the West. Quiet, as usual, but continued sea warfare.

In the North. Finnish troops retreated on the Karelian isthmus, but Russia's gains were terribly costly. In mid-February, unreported for several weeks, a United Press correspondent found the Reds have suffered 50,000 casualties in the Pitkaeranta sector alone.

CONGRESS:

Six Weeks Gone

Either the President thought he had congress well in hand, or else he decided it was hopelessly rebellious. At any rate he left secretly on a 10-day fishing trip in Caribbean waters, his movements shrouded behind an army of secret service men. His last acts were to (1) okay the $252,000,000 emergency defense bill and (2) veto a bill to raise mail carriers' salaries. Congress meanwhile began its sixth week with members of the American Youth Congress hissing from the house gallery at everything in sight. Still unsolved were such major problems as economy, foreign relations and the reciprocal trade act, indicating another long session. But plenty of legislation was in the mill:

Neutrality. Passed by the senate 49-27 was a bill to boost the Export-Import bank's working capital by $100,000,000, paving the way for non-military loans to Finland and China. Interest on foreign policy thus shifted to the house, where the G. O. P. expected to fight against loans to belligerents. Meanwhile the senate foreign relations committee kept postponing action on the proposed embargo against Japan. Congress watched with interest while Secretary of State Cordell Hull laid at Britain's door the responsibility for a German threat to torpedo U. S. ships in the war zone. Reason: Britain has detained U. S. vessels and taken them to contraband ports in the war zone.

Defense. Less than 24 hours after it had okayed a $960,772,078 navy supply bill (cut $111,700,000 under budget estimates), the house naval committee repeated and approved a $655,000,000 fleet expansion program. The latter bill would only authorize new construction; actual funds must come from separate legislation. Primarily concerned about the big supply bill, the house expected to restore part of the cut.

Agriculture. The house agriculture committee okayed a $350,000,000 bill to expand scope of the farm tenancy act, insuring mortgages of tenants who want to buy their own farms.

Labor. Chairman J. Warren Madden of NLRB told the house labor board committee that Reconstruction Finance corporation has agreed to withhold loans from firms found by NLRB to be violators of the Wagner act. This created a rumpus.

WHITE HOUSE:

'Missy' in Trouble

Several days after President Roosevelt appointed State Undersecretary Sumner Welles to make a European peace junket, arch-Republican papers like the Chicago Tribune published a juicy story. Its gist:

The peace mission was conceived by Welles himself, who slipped in through the White House back door one day and outlined his idea in glowing terms before Marguerite "Missy" LeHand, the presidential secretary "who is rated to have more influence in the throne room than anyone else." Said the Tribune story: "Missy" thought it a grand idea and laid it before the President. Mr. Roosevelt, who was in a most receptive mood for a new peace drive, beamed and called in Mr. Welles and commissioned him on the spot to set out upon the great adventure.

"MISSY"

Whatever the facts, the President's two ace diplomats showed up in Washington next day and were reportedly displeased. Up from Miami came Joe Kennedy, ambassador to Britain. Home from Paris came Bill Bullitt, ambassador to France. Why, they allegedly asked, did the President prefer Mr. Welles' unseasoned opinions on Europe to their own painstaking studies?

Apprised of the gossip, Secretary of State Cordell Hull and White House Secretary Steve Early took pains to deny any rift. Said Mr. Hull: "I do not think a more capable person could be sent upon the European mission."

While Sumner Welles sailed for Europe to visit chancelleries in London, Berlin, Paris, Rome, etc., another presidential coup was coming home to roost. The Vatican, which holds no diplomatic status with the U. S. because of Protestant objections, nevertheless announced that Myron Taylor (whom the President named his "personal" envoy to Pope Pius XII) would be given official status as ambassador from the U. S. While Baptists fumed, the Vatican calmly pointed out that any agent must have diplomatic credentials if he is to be recognized.

BUSINESS:

Insurance Quiz

Under the temporary national economy committee's spotlight in Washington went U. S. insurance companies. When the examination was finished, this thriving enterprise had acquired a lot of unpleasant publicity.

First witness was Leon Henderson, securities and exchange commissioner, who charged that life insurance companies hold a first mortgage on U. S. business. He went on to prove it: SEC had studied 20 of the largest firms, finding (1) that they seem to be drifting from their original object of writing life insurance to handling investment funds, and (2) that their tremendous concentration of assets is probably robbing business enterprise of funds.

Facts were interesting. From 1920 to 1938, SEC found, 20 companies took in 42½ billions. Of this, 10½ billions was not disbursed but went into reserve, surplus and contingency funds. Still more interesting was the fact that SEC's 20 subjects increased their assets by 63 per cent from 1929 to 1935, yet life insurance in force went up only 10 per cent.

Next day John A. Stevenson, president of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance company, surprised TNEC and the nation by advocating a modernization of the 60-year-old mortality statistics, asserting that amounts collected for mortality have been too high in recent years. But, he added, it makes little difference in cost to the policyholder since excess income is returned in dividends.

COURTS:

3 Decisions

In Washington the U. S. Supreme court made news by three decisions: 1. On Lincoln's birthday, it saved four Florida Negroes from death, ruling that murder confessions were obtained by "secret, inquisitorial" police methods after five days of continuous grilling which violated the Negroes' constitutional rights. 2. It created a furor by ruling that federal courts have no right to change National Labor Relations Board decisions on questions of disputed facts in labor controversies. 3. It enjoined Arkansas from imposing a tax on gasoline (in excess of 20 gallons) carried in fuel tanks of interstate busses when the gasoline is intended for use in other states. Three justices (Frankfurter, Black and Douglas) dissented, claiming the trade barrier question is a matter for congressional action.

AGRICULTURE:

Parity for '40

While the farm bloc was busy trying to wheedle $200,000,000 for 1941 parity payments out of an economy-bent congress, the agriculture department began using the $225,000,000 authorized (but not provided for) last year. Payments would be made this year, it was ruled by the last congress, if 1939 average farm prices were less than 75 per cent of parity—which is the 1909-14 average as related to farm purchasing power. Since prices were below parity, the agriculture department announced 1040 payments of 1.55 cents ($30,000,000) per pound on cotton; 10 cents ($57,100,000) a bushel on wheat; five cents ($40,000,000) a bushel on corn, and 1.7 cents ($300,000) a hundredweight on rice.

AVIATION:

Boom

When Europe went to war, and especially when cash-and-carry neutrality took effect, everyone knew the U. S. aviation industry was in for boom times. After six months of war the boom had surpassed expectations. In southern California alone there was a backlog of some $200,000,000 in orders for the U. S. and foreign powers. But within 30 days, a survey indicated, mass delivery will begin on thousands of ships.

Already filled since the boom began last summer have been orders for 1,450 combat planes; still uncompleted are 7,700 more. Major foreign sales have been to France and Britain, which ordered 5,000 ships. But only about 350 craft have been delivered of the 4,450 ordered by the U. S. army and navy.

Meanwhile, however, the U. S. is profiting on more recent designs, hence will get the best of the new ships. Typical is the army's new four-motor bomber. Carrying four tons of bombs and a nine-man crew at 300 m. p. h., the ship will give any enemy a run for its money.

MISCELLANY:

Import From Poland

At Berlin, Field Marshal Hermann Goering announced 1,000,000 Poles will be imported to work German farms, bolstering the Nazi larder without taking men from the front lines.

At Albany, N. Y., 8,000 taxpayers protested; apparently with success, a proposed $15,000,000 personal income tax boost, also demanding reduction in the pending $300,700,000 budget.

EXPERIMENTAL FARM COW PRODUCES 105,884 POUNDS OF 4% MILK IN EIGHT COMPLETE LACTATION PERIODS

Purina Farm Cow No. 132. Her fine calving and milk production record graphically illustrates the necessity of proper feeding and conditioning while dry.

She has no name—just a number. She is known only as Cow No. 132 in the Purina Experimental Farm herd at Gray Summit, Missouri. Yet old 132 is making a real name for herself by her contributions to the cause of building longer milking life and higher production in dairy cows.

Now in her twelfth year, she has dropped her ninth calf and produced a total of 105,884 lbs. of milk in 8 complete lactations, according to Meade Summers, manager of Purina Mills' Dairy Department. "Backed by so fine a record," says Summers, "Cow 132 is definitely able to tell dairymen what it takes to increase the profitable milking span of a dairy cow's life, and cut down costly herd replacements due to breakdown or prematurely worn out animals."

Down and Up Again

"In 1931, Cow 132 produced 9,330 lbs. of milk. But in 1932, she dropped back to 7,481 lbs. because for experimental purposes she was not conditioned on any special dry-cow ration during her dry period. After her 1932 milking year she was put on Dry and Freshening Chow (experimental ration) and each year since then she has been conditioned on Dry and Freshening Chow during her dry period. Her production records have been consistently high since that time:

Year	Lbs. Milk	Lbs. Fat
1933	14,703	602
1934	17,551	737
1935	14,233	596
1936	15,458	603
1937	12,901	518
1938	13,695	548

"Taking in the figures of her first two lactations, this makes a total of 105,884 lbs. of milk, yielding 4,271 lbs. butterfat—a lifetime fat test of 4%! And she's still going strong. She has bred regularly year after year and her nine calves have all been normal and vigorous."

"This all points to one of the most important steps in dairy herd management—namely, the importance of proper feeding during the dry period," says Summers.

Antioch Plays in District Basketball Tournament Tonight

Antioch is paired with Capron in the district basketball tournament at Hebron this evening. The Hebron team will play Huntley tonight also.

The winners of the two games will be matched Friday evening at 8:45. Winners of the opening games in the tournament, Richmond vs. McHenry and Plato Center vs. Harvard, who were matched Wednesday evening, are also to play off on Friday night, at 7:45 o'clock.

Friday's winners will in turn be matched in a game Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

The winner and runner-up will go to the regional tournament to be held at Crystal Lake.

Ray's Service Station Burglarized; Loss, $25

Goods valued at $25 were stolen from Ray's Service station, corner of Routes 173 and 21, south of Antioch sometime Sunday night.

The loss was discovered Monday morning at 7 o'clock when B. A. Ray, proprietor, opened the station for the day's business.

Articles missing included six cartons each of cigarettes and candy bars, two boxes of cigars, and two two-gallon cans of oil, he informed deputy sheriffs.

A bulldog left tied at the rear of the service station by Ray the night before was still there to greet him in the morning.

Club Hears of Farm Problems

H. C. Gilkerson, Farm Adviser, Addresses Civic Club

In 1900 it took a certain part of a farmer's produce to cover the costs of equipment and other things he had to purchase; during intervening years the ratio has changed, and it takes a larger proportion of a farmer's produce to buy the things he needs—and this is one of the causes of the "farm problem," H. C. Gilkerson told members of the Antioch Men's Civic club at a meeting Monday evening in St. Ignace's Guild hall.

Gilkerson, who is adviser for Lake County Farm bureau, took as his subject "The Federal Farm Program."

Since economic changes have disturbed the parity of farm products and the price required for farmers' purchases, "parity payments" to farmers have the aim of reducing this difference to some extent, he said.

Speaking of conservation payments made to farmers for planting crops that do not exhaust the soil, he said it was his belief that this policy was justified because the value of the soil is a national resource, besides being important to the individual farmer.

The much debated question of crop limitation, Gilkerson said, is analogous to industrialists' and manufacturers' limitation of production.

Places were set for 36 at the dinner. The speaker was introduced by W. C. Petty, program chairman.

Edward Lynch, Chicago, spent Tuesday with his mother, Mrs. Andrew Lynch.

Rotnour Presents "Poor Relation" Tonight, "Puddin' Head Jones" Next

Stage presentations by the J. B. Rotnour company will take a flight into "higher society" when "Poor Relations" is given this evening.

Miss Jewel Townsend will be seen in a "Cinderella type" lead as the "poor little 'it' girl," Miss Margaret Peachy is to have the role of the spoiled society girl, Miss Dorothy LaVerne the part of the society matron and Mr. LeRoy that of her hen-pecked husband.

The eccentric old uncle who helps to bring in much of the comedy of the play will be portrayed by Mr. Parsons. Mr. Conley will be seen in a leading part.

Mr. Parsons will introduce one of his favorite numbers, "Whisperin' Bill," during the evening's program, and Miss Peachy will be seen in a comedy novelty.

"Puddin' Head Jones" is to be next Thursday evening's offering. Merchandise tickets for the Rotnour performances may be secured from firms listed in an advertisement in this issue of the Antioch News.

The Observer

We hadn't noticed until the fact was called to our attention this morning that the Antioch News publishes five papers this month. The chances of five Thursdays in one February were figured out by a hasty calculation as occurring only once in 28 years. So, besides being published on Washington's birthday, today's issue of the News has another claim to distinction—quite aside, of course, from its undoubted journalistic merits.

There are quite a lot of flags out today. We don't know if people generally have noticed it, but we think that quite aside from its symbolism, the United States flag is really one of the most beautiful in the world. Perhaps folks in other countries think that of theirs, too.

But as we watched the flags waving in the wind this morning, up and down Main street, we couldn't help but feel that they remind us how utterly different were the principles for which George Washington and others of the early American leaders (and many later ones, too) fought and worked; from the motives that brought about the present European struggle. Perhaps that is why we over here look on it with such regret when we wonder whether the different questions involved couldn't be settled by methods attended with less tragedy and with less waste of life and materials.

Europeans say we are wasteful, but we don't suppose they ever stop to think what centuries of warfare have cost Europe. Seems silly, doesn't it?

The recent snow and ice have stymied the activities of a certain "gentleman of the road" who during past months has visited Antioch regularly and made the rounds of the business district in quest of cigarette and cigar butts which he salvaged from the gutters, apparently completely oblivious of any and all on-lookers. Professionally, among the brotherhood, the man would be known as a "snipe-shooter." His step is quick, his eye alert and he pays the most strict attention to the business in hand—that of getting his day's supply of tobacco just for the taking. . . . There's no point to the story—except that it's a pathetic sight. This man, obviously endowed with robust health, and evidently having seen better days, descended to the status of a human derelict. It makes one wonder if our social system is at fault—or is the man just a natural-born bum?

Looks as though winter had to get in a few good ticks, just to show spring and the daffydills ain't quite here yet. One of the modern miracles to us is how well highway crews working around Antioch manage in keeping the roads clear, against obstacles like quite a bit of snow and a robust north wind. We glimpsed a couple of snow plows halted on the Old Wilmot road the other morning while the drivers passed the time of day. Reminded us of the days when horses on farmers' rigs used to stop automatically at the sound of the first greetings being exchanged—knowing full well that they wouldn't be starting on again until the political situation, the state of the nation, the state of the crops and all local scandals were duly gone over. When people say the automobile is responsible for the decline of conversation, we are sometimes inclined to agree with them.

We're kinda laying for the guy that phoned in an ad the other day—"For Sale dash used oil burner stove coming large size comma," and so on as we figure maybe he thought we might hold out on the punctuation and we're terribly terribly hurt! We figure he maybe thinks we are thinking of trying Mark Twain's idea of putting in all the punctuation marks together in the back so the reader can salt 'em in to suit ourselves. And now that we think of it we think maybe it might not be such a bad idea at that . . .

Note to ladies interested in knitting—Mrs. A. K. Mueller of the Round-Up holds something of a record in that line. During the past few years she has knitted herself eight or nine suits or other complete outfits. . . . the latest being a gorgeous "creation" in ivory color, with a pleated skirt.

Every once in a while we are kind of shocked to learn that people actually read this column. We hope you'll like these little quotations which Mrs. W. D. Wood has saved up and which we begged off her:

"Things even up. You can't win as much success in a lick town, but it takes less to make you a prominent citizen."

"How strange to spend twenty years getting educated, when you can seem equally wise just by keeping your mouth shut."

Clara Haling, editor of "Haling's Chatter," has had the temerity to publish in her paper a list of eligible matrimonial hold-outs. (A few Antioch stalwarts are mentioned). Young ladies who are interested in learning whether or not there is anything in that Leap Year stuff might do well to investigate same. . . . What was it Confucius said?
